

Tasik Chini conservation, personal data breaches among focus at Parliament today

August 4, 2022 @ 10:00am

The issue of conservation at Tasik Chini in Pahang, and the crime of personal data breaches will be among the issues discussed on the last day of the Second Meeting of the Fifth Term of the 14th Parliament, today.- Pic courtesy of Jabatan Penerangan

KUALA LUMPUR: The issue of conservation at Tasik Chini in Pahang, and the crime of personal data breaches will be among the issues discussed on the last day of the Second Meeting of the Fifth Term of the 14th Parliament, today.

According to the Order Paper published on the Parliament website, questions regarding the government's actions to treat and restore the Tasik Chini area, in order to avoid being stripped of its status by the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organisation (UNESCO), will be raised by Fuziah Salleh (PH-Kuantan) to the Energy and Natural Resources Minister during the Ministers' Question Time session.

There will also be a question from Shaharizukirnain Abd Kadir (PAS-Setiu) to the Communications and Multimedia Minister, seeking to find out the ministry's plan to amend several clauses in the Personal Data Protection Act to deal with the crime that had caused nearly 100 million cases of personal data breaches.

Meanwhile, during the question-and-answer session, Lukanisman Awang Sauni (GPS-Sibuti) will ask the Communications and Multimedia Ministry about the status of providing tablets under the PerantiSiswa programme, and the latest information on the number of tablets that will be distributed to students from the B40 group.

In addition, a question regarding the government's initiative to help students who dropped out and were unable to continue their studies, or had to postpone their studies due to the Covid-19 pandemic, will be raised by Akmal Nasrullah Mohd Nasir (PH-Johor Bahru) to the Higher Education Minister.

Also expected to be the highlight is the tabling of the Penal Code (Amendment) Bill 2022 for the first reading, followed by the Criminal Procedure Code (Amendment) (No. 2) Bill 2022, also for the first reading.

The current Dewan Rakyat sitting lasts for 12 days, starting July 18. -- BERNAMA